

Give Money to Get Money

Giving is a powerful action to bring more money into your life, because when you are giving you are saying, “I have plenty.” If you think that you don’t have enough money to give, start giving. When you demonstrate your love for helping others, the law of attraction works to bring you more money. This is a fact. The wealthiest people are the greatest philanthropists. Think about it.

All tourists to Rome never miss the opportunity to visit the famous Trevi Fountain. It is said that if you drop a coin in the fountain behind your shoulders your wishes come true. The Rotary Foundation is like this Trevi Fountain. You make a contribution and wish that someone somewhere gets food, education, shelter, medical aid or any other benefit, The Rotary Foundation makes your wish come true. Probably, at the Trevi Fountain you make a wish for yourself; at The Rotary Foundation you wish for others. This wish builds a better world, a world of peace and happiness which in turn will make your wishes come true.

Giving from a heart that is overflowing, makes you feel good. When we give we not only get a feeling of satisfaction but also a sense of belonging. The problems facing the world are immense. No one Rotarian or one club or even one country can solve them. We need a gigantic apparatus that is spread throughout the world which is manned by people with high ethical standards and integrity. The Rotary Foundation is this apparatus.

Trevi Fountain, Rome

Make it your intention to look at all the service projects of The Rotary Foundation and say, “I want to be a part of that. I must assist that programme. I can do it.” You will find that money comes to you when you feel better about sharing it.

Don’t think about sacrificing. It may not make you feel good. Think about giving in abundance. Every one of us can contribute at least US $100 every year. The people who have committed to give US $1,000 every year and have become Paul Harris Society members have the faith that they can generate that money every year. Erase that feeling that you may not have enough to give. Replace it with joyful feeling of giving and helping others. Today, children need your help. Rotary Foundation has promised to eradicate polio, give education and prevent child mortality.

I am reminded about Ms. Loral Langemeier who was known as the millionaire maker. She cultivated an innate ability to hone in on the skills and talents of everyday people to inspire them to generate wealth. Her mantra was, ‘Money comes easily and frequently. Replace the thoughts about lack of money with the thought that there is abundance.’

Think about what good your money can do. You will radiate happiness when a child thanks you in some part of this planet. Support your Rotary Foundation, now.

*Rtn. Ashok Mahajan
Trustee*

The Rotary Foundation, 2009–2013